Apologies for the merged post - initial & reminder. The orphaned "projects half done" (PhD's) over the year have been gathering and progressing smoothly over winter.

== ELSOC INDUSTRY NIGHT ==

This second biggest event of the year exposes undergraduates to the companies, their products and culture.

If you have something to share from the workplace, come and be part of the allocated Alumni table. You may even see the latest players in the market.

If you are not in town, I will be glad to be part of a video link - LI chat, FB msgr via the mobile. We just need to coordinate a time for both ends.

From the Elsoc Newsletter:

“UNSW ELSOC is proud to present our 2024 Industry Night!

We invite all electrical and telecommunications students to come along on Monday Week 8 to this evening. This is a great opportunity to talk to experts in the field and learn from engineering professionals about career opportunities.

Especially important for penultimate and final year students, this night will allow you to network and make new connections, find out about graduate roles, internships, and industrial training, and learn more about industry!”
