Sections: Elsoc AGM -- Incoming Executive -- Outgoing -- Daylight saving

A recap of the Elsoc AGM and the coming Daylight Saving changes.

== ELSOC AGM ==

It was non-stop for 2.5 hours from 8 pm. Someone forgot to order the Pizza!

On entering the room, voters picked a number out of a hat. When it was time to vote, they scanned the displayed barcode and entered their associated 9 hex digit number - with the dashes of course. The online voters had their own identifier.

There was even a 3:30 am video call to Liam Mitchell in Canada over the local Discord channel for an Industry Exec position presentation. Jerry Yan had more votes for it. Liam will have Socials Exec portfolio in 2025 when he's back from his Leadership course. Obviously, he's not in the new Exec photo of the night.

== DAYLIGHT SAVING ==

For the ones who are working overseas, next weekend is the start of it for us. It may help you time your Conference or Family calls. Clocks go forward an hour here on Sunday 2 am. It'll revert back on 06 April.

The following TimeAndDate website has been helpful over the years and being in different countries -- Click(TimeAndDate). If you have a favourite, please share in the comments.

Also, watching the Mt Panorama event of the Bathurst 1000, is on the weekend after the DLS change -- 10-13th October 2024.

I have to keep short-circuiting my brain's wiring. It's not on the October Long Weekend anymore. Long-term memory circuit... (pun intended).
