"ELSOC Industry Night is back - and bigger than ever!"

Date: Tuesday, 10th June

Time: 6:00 PM - 8:30 PM

Location: Leighton Hall, UNSW

This is your chance to connect with engineers and recruiters from over 20 leading companies in software, electrical engineering, tech, and consulting.

Whether you're looking for internships, graduate roles, or just want to explore your options - Industry Night is the place to be.

Come along, ask questions, and get real insights into what companies are looking for in students like you.

No registration needed - just show up!"

Kind Regards,
Andrew Chung | he/him | President

== FIELDED QUESTIONS ==

At our EE&T Alumni table, James Bott from AEMO, joined us this year. Some questions were:

- + How long has it been since you graduated? Where do you work now and what do they do?
- + What opportunities are there for a mechatronics graduate in the industries where electrical engineers work?
- + What benefits are there in getting to know other students also studying electrical engineering, for example by participating in events organised by Elsoc, etc.
- + Is it better to start in consulting or get other work experience before going into consulting?
- + Would you review my resume and make improvements?
- + Did you graduate from this Uni?
- + Do you have any first project tips for interviews?
- + When would job prospects be better in the Power Industry - before or after a PhD?
- + What work path did you take after you graduated?

== ALUMNI APOLOGIES ==

Many other Alumni were contacted over email. Some compressed responses:

+ David Morphett - "Hi Rob, Unfortunately I won't be able to attend. Regards, David"

+ Matthew Brener - "Rob don't think I'm going to be able to make it at this stage but will know for sure closer to the date."

+ Matthew Davis - "Hi Rob, I'm still out of town, living in France. I might pop back to Sydney for a visit later this year. Regards, Matthew"

+ Peter Vickery - "Hello Rob, I am keen to be involved in events like the Industry Night, but I have a diary clash. I really appreciate your trying to include me."

+ Philip Mallon - "Hello Rob, thanks for the invite. Sorry I can not make this event. Regards Philip"

+ Tony Chand - "Hi Rob, Thanks for the email and the invite. I will not be in Sydney for the ELSOC meeting unfortunately. Kind regards tonyc"
